The publisher regrets that this article was erroneously published as a Research Article instead of as a Review Article. The article should have appeared in the front of the issue and should have carried a special head identifying it as a review.

In addition, the authors discovered two citation errors after press: the work discussed by Warren and colleagues (1994) on the patterns of lepidopteran Distal-less and Ubx/Abd-A expression is from the butterfly Precis coenia, not, as stated, from the moth Manduca sexta. Also, the dynamics of Antennapedia localization at early stages of Drosophila leg imaginal disc development was first shown by Casares and Mann (1998). The authors' apologies go to these authors and to the readers for any confusion.
